DOWNTOWN LOS ANGELES —

LoftSEVEN's monthly designer sample sale returns Sunday, featuring over two-dozen brands and steep markdowns off retail prices. If deals aren't enough of a draw, the event also offers free drinks to lure people in the door and up the elevator.

Shoppers check out the n.om jewelry table at the June sample sale.

Sunday's show will be the fourth for LoftSEVEN, which occupies the penthouse and roof of the Haas Building at 7th and Broadway. The Sample Sale is one of several public events offered in the space, along with a monthly movie night, Art Walk events and standup comedy.
